Forgotten Books, United States, 2016. Paperback. Condition: New. Language: English . Brand New Book  Print on Demand . Excerpt from The Structure and Discriminant Power of Attitudes The acceptance of whatever results are produced by the manipulation of the matrix of raw data deserves a strong caveat, particularly within the present framework. The prior theory, at least, provides a standard against which the output of the statistical analysis may be measured. Major differences between prior theory and results have to be investigated and may lead to a new prior theory. Minor divergences may be reconciled by the Bayesian argument that prior information should be updated by sample evidence.
