Salem Press Inc, United States, 2008. Hardback. Book Condition: New. New.. 444 x 290 mm. Language: English . Brand New Book. This title presents in-depth critical essays on important women and men in all areas of achievement, and from around the world, who flourished between 1901 and 2000. Great Lives from History: The 20th Century, 1901-2000 is a remarkable reference set, covering a century in truly global fashion. It is also the eighth installment in the revised and expanded Great Lives series, which provides in-depth critical essays on important men and women in all areas of achievement. This brand new, ten-volume set offers more than 1,300 extensive biographies of major personages in world history from 1901-2000. This set is broad in scope, both geographically and in terms of the individuals areas of achievement. The personages covered are identified with several different regions, including Africa, Asia, Australia, Europe, the Middle East, North America, and South America. The coverage is broad in areas of achievement as well as geography, and includes those persons recognized for shaping history, coverage that is essential in any liberal arts curriculum. Major world leaders appear here, as well as religious leaders, philosophers, educators, and theologians who left their imprint on political and spiritual institutions. The set also includes figures who have received little attention in the past, particularly women and people of color who also had significant achievements throughout the century. Each essay ranges from 1,500 to 3,000 words in length (3 to 5 pages) and displays standard ready-reference top matter offering easy access to biographical information including the individual s name, nationality, occupation, area of achievement, and dates of birth and death. Also included is a summary paragraph highlighting the individual s historical importance and indicating why the person is studied today. The body of each essay is divided into...
