Their ideal is no less than that the whole earth should join in the faith that there is no god but Allah and that Mohammed is Allahs last and most perfect messenger, who brought the latest and final revelation of Allah to humanity in Allahs own words. This alone is enough to claim our special interest for the Prophet, who in the seventh century stirred all Arabia into agitation and whose followers soon after his death founded an empire extending from Morocco to China. Even those whoto my mind, not without gross exaggerationwould seek the explanation of the mighty stream of humanity poured out by the Arabian peninsula since 630 over Western and Middle Asia, Northern Africa, and Southern Europe principally in geographic and economic causes, do not ignore the fact that it was Mohammed who opened the sluice gates. It would indeed be difficult to maintain that without his preaching the Arabs of the seventh century would have been induced by circumstances to swallow up the empire of the Sasanids and to rob the Byzantine Empire of some of its richest provinces. However great a weight one may give to political and economic factors, it was religion, Islm, which in a certain sense united the hitherto hopelessly divided Arabs, Islm which enabled them to...
